Adult Services Live-Streams

The first-ever Adult Services live stream was on December 31st. Zack will hold the live streams on a bi-weekly basis to help let the community know about the programs and services we provide for adults.

Zoom Book Club

Zoom Book Club is now on the second Thursday of every month. The next session is on February 11th. The Book Club is reading The Woman Next Door: A Novel by Yewande Omotoso.

Winter Reading Program

Winter Reading Challenge is live. We've handed out close to 39 bingo cards. There are also eight people registered online for the digital version of the bingo card. So far, Zack has not had anyone bring back a card with a bingo.

Summer Reading Program

Zack has started the planning process for Adult Summer Reading Program. He is requesting $306.91 for supplies from the Collaborative Summer Reading Program to host the event. The purchase request includes materials for supplies and end of program prizes.

Program requests for speakers and events will come at a later date. He is exploring socially-distanced programs and craft kits. The costs for these are unknown at this time. All potential contracts will be required to have a cancellation clause if we believe COVID presents a danger.

Operations:

New adult titles are published on the city website.

Professional Development:

Zack is registering for a public libraries course through his alma mater, Simmons University. The three-credit course will cover the continuing education hours he needs for the next three years.

Zack will be attending the virtual Jump start Workshop for Summer Reading Program on March 3rd.
